West Lebanon, NY – Saturday April 8th, Lebanon Valley Speedway opens the new track surface to practice for all divisions, and as an added bonus, all spectators that watch from the Grandstands, get in for FREE!

With the 54th Opening Day just around the corner, the speedway cracks open its doors for all competitors to “blow the dust off” of their new cars for the 2006 season. Big Block Mods, 358’s, Sportsman, Pro Stocks, Limited Pro Stocks and Pure Stocks will all be on hand to shake down their cars, show off their new paint schemes, and get a head start on their set-ups.

“The track is ready, we’re just keeping our fingers crossed that the weather cooperates” stated LVS General Manager Lyle Devore. “This should be one of the fastest tracks we’ve ever had this early in the season. We are all excited, and just can’t wait to get started.” he added.

With the track ready to rip, it’s now time for the drivers to get a taste of what the “Valley of Speed” has to offer for '06. The list of drivers that have planning to compete in '06 is like a Who’s-who in dirt racing. 12-Time Point Champion Kenny Tremont is back to challenge for the title again this year. Along with contenders like Vermont’s Wayne Jelley, Averill Park’s Donnie Corellis and J.R. Heffner, Massachusetts’s Andy Bachetti, and many more will all be vying to be king of the Valley in the Modified Division come September.

As a special note to all drivers: don’t wait till the last minute to get your DIRT or LVS Licenses’. Details are available on our website or by contacting the Speedway Offices during normal business hours.
