New Lebanon, NY: Cooler temperatures didn't prevent spectators and drivers from coming out to Lebanon Valley Speedway for the Warm-Up session leading up to this week's 54th Opening Day. A nice crowd was on hand in the grandstands that were open to the public free of charge to watch the cars and drivers blow the dust off their new rides for the 2006 season.

Nearly 60 teams showed up at the gates to take a few laps at on the legendary Valley of Speed. Notables were a couple of new comers, and one returning after a brief hiatus. Lori Cary, driver of the #96 Pro Stock to her first laps on Saturday, making preparations for a full season as a regular at LVS in the already competitive Pro Stock class. In the past she has been a regular at both Albany-Saratoga, as well as Fonda Speedway.

Also on hand for a shake down was return regular Tim Dwyer. His familiar #1A unloaded later in the session, and got some track time breaking in the powerplant, as well as getting re-acquainted with the High Banks.

Every class was represented including 4 cylinders, Pure Stocks, Pro/Limited Stocks, Sportsman, 358/Big Block Modifieds.

This leads us to the 54th Opening Day scheduled for this Saturday April 15th, 2006. The pit gates will be open at 3:00pm, front gates at 5:00pm, racing by 6:30pm. Opening Night is presented by Wentworth Construction, Heavy Hauler, and L&M Motors, with a special CARQUEST $3,000.00 to win Big Block Modified Special!
