

Lebanon Valley's Night Washed Out

Saturday April 22, 2006

New Lebanon, NY: The much-anticipated return of the Lebanon Valley Sportsman to the High Banks gets pushed back one more week due to rain. The continuous rainfall that began mid morning at the Valley of Speed, put much needed moisture into the grounds, but hampered running the program for a full night of racing.

"That is just gonna make for an even better show this weekend" commented track promoter Howard Commander. He was referring to the fact that for this weekends' program; the Sportsman will not only be on tap for the start of their season, but also the Benjamin Moore Paints 358 Super Series, presented by Boomer's Performance and Madsen Overhead Doors will make their debut as well.

"The amount of racing along with all the different divisions will make for a fantastic night of racing for the whole family to enjoy," concluded Commander.

Saturday April 29th, 2006, Madsen Overhead Doors, and Boomer's Performance Present the Benjamin Moore Paints 358 Super Series! All division will be on tap, including the beginning of the Sportsman Division Points Season. Gates open at 5:00pm, racing by 6:00pm.
