

Huge Night of Racing at the Valley Of Speed Bachetti, and Quinn Take First; Yetman Goes 2 For 2!

Saturday April 29, 2006 – By: Rodney Rescott

New Lebanon, NY: Sunny skies and mild temperatures brought scores of fans to the High Banks at Lebanon Valley to see the hot action that was non stop all night long. Madsen's Overhead Doors and Boomer's Performance presented the full program, including the season opener for the Sportsman division, and the Benjamin Moore Paints 358 Super Series.

With over 150 cars packed into the infield of the legendary high banks, space was at a premium, but there was plenty of racing action on the speedway. The 30 lap Madsen Overhead Doors/Boomer's Performance Big Block Modified main event took the green flag with the "Mighty" Matt Quinn's #20 at the point. When the field reached turns one, Quinn showed he was going to be a force all night. And with Quinn firmly in command, the attention drew back deep in the field as the "Wild Child" Andy Bachetti began a charge from the 8 row. Just ahead of him, coming through the filed as well was "Mr. Excitement" of Wayne Jelley.

By lap 10 the two had broke into the top 5 and began to reel in the mighty Quinn. A couple of cautions slowed the field on lap 11, and 13 allow the dynamite duo to cinch up onto the back bumper of the #20. By lap 20, it was a three-way battle for the lead. Quinn was playing defense as the handle began to fade on the #20. On the offense were Jelley's K&F Modular's #45J and the Albreda Waste #4 of the Wild Child. Lap 23 saw the three enter turns three all in row, by turn four; they were three wide for the lead. The crowd was on their feet and the three battled into the first turn. It was Bachetti who managed to grab the lead by turn two, with Jelley and Quinn hot on his heels.

But he was not to be denied, and Andy Bachetti crossed the line first, with Jelley and Quinn in 3rd. Finishing fourth was Ron Dwyer, and 5th was captured by "Fast" Eddie Marshall. "Wayne and I are good friends, and we raced each other clean. He gave me and Matt (Quinn) room to race. It was just a lot of fun," added Bachetti in victory lane. 6th place went to Donnie Corellis, followed by Guy Sheldon, J.R. Heffner, Lorne Browe, and Hector Stratton rounded out the top 10.

The Benjamin Moore 358 Super Series was also on tap at the Valley of Speed. That 24-lap feature was merely a carbon copy of the Big Block Modified showdown; this time Bachetti just didn't have enough to get by the "Mighty" Quinn's #32Q. The action was hot and heavy as Tom Faxon's #171 brought the field to green but it was easy to see who the big guns were going to be. Faxon held the point till the #32Q came calling by lap 8. Quinn set sail to build a cushion from the charge of Bachetti and Jelley as they made their way through the field. But this time, a very excited Quinn had more than enough to take the checkers. "These guys work so hard, I'm just so exited to be here" Quinn stated in victory lane.

Quinn was first, followed by Bachetti, Jelley, Faxon, and Roy Bridge. Martin Roy was 6th, followed by J.R. Heffner, Rich Salisbury, Donnie Corellis, and Ted Teal rounded out the top 10.

The opening round for the Sportsman division was also on the schedule, delayed from last week. A week was worth the wait as the Stan & Fran's, Kokosa Fuel Service #00 of Chris Kokosa returned to victory lane, his first in nearly 2 years. Kokosa easily covered the field, capturing the 20-lap feature. Following the #00 were Alan Houghtaling, Kory Sandstedt, Don Miller, and Kyle Hoffman. 6th was Frank Harper, followed by Neil Stratton, Kevin Lynch, Chris Tryon, and Carman Carnibucci rounded out the top 10.

Rob Yetman began another repeat of 2005, and he went back to back, winning his second feature of 2006 in as many weeks in the Pro Stocks. Yetman's #7 was followed by Jimmy Langenback, Mike Middleton, Chris Crews, and Robbie Speed. 6th was Paul LaRochelle, 7th was Rob Langevin; a strong 8th was Lori Cary, followed by Henry Warner, and Victor Hopkins to complete the top 10.

The Limited Pro Stocks had Kyle Hosier capture his first win of 2006. Hosier was followed by George Miles, John Santolin, Nick Hilt and Brian Keough. Justin Herron, Frankie Twing, Jim Keough, Dirk LaPierre, and Eric Sbraga rounded out the top 10.

The Pure Stocks had over 50 cars in attendance, divided into 4 feature events. The action was also exciting to watch as PS#1 was won by Joe Landry. PS#2 saw Chris Stalker take the checkers, as Pete Wiegand took PS#3. And Pure Stock #4 was captured by Kevin Winters.

The 4 Cylinders return to the Valley of Speed on Saturday May 6th, as Reality Check of NY, and Quandt's Food present the program with Big Block Mods, Sportsman, Pro/Limited Stocks, and Pure Stocks all on tap. The front gates will open at 5:00 pm, and racing by 6:00 pm.
